We’re on a mission to break multigenerational cycles of childhood trauma because neurological; psychological; sociological research shows that ACEs (Adverse Childhood Experiences/Adverse Community Environments), if not prevented or mitigated, can create toxic stress that changes children’s brains and affects epigenetics. Through our Family Resilience & Organizational Resilience programs we’re helping ensure children, families, and the organizations working with them have education, skills, and support to prepare them for success. We know that by working more holistically across families and organizations, we’ll move closer to our vision of a resilient community where all children thrive!!

83% of our parents experienced at least one ACE

61% of adults in the USA experienced at least one ACE

16% of adults experienced 4+ ACEs (according to a 2019 study)

More ACES = Increased Risk

As the number of ACEs increase, so does the risk for negative outcomes
